Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-6, 8-11, and 14-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Barr et al.

As per claim 1, Barr et al. discloses a temperature sensitive valve 18 including a passageway (44 & 46; see column 3, lines 39-40), valve member 88 movable between first & second positions, retaining member 146 movable with the valve and engaged with holding device 140 in a first position while the temperature is below a threshold, and release actuator 150 movable when the temperature reaches a threshold to disengage the retaining member 146 and the holding device 140, to permit valve member 88 to move to the second position (column 5, lines 27-35).

As per claim 2, Barr et al. discloses the valve member being pivotal about shaft 86.

As per claim 3, Barr et al. discloses valve member 88 being a flap (Figure 2) which in the first position allows flow and in the second position engages valve seat 48 to close the passageway.

As per claim 4, Barr et al. discloses biasing device 114.

As per claim 5, Barr et al. discloses valve member 88 remaining in the second position.

Art Unit: 3744

As per claim 6, Barr et al. discloses retaining member 146 being movable by the release actuator 150 to allow the retaining member and the holding device to disengage at the threshold temperature (column 5, lines 27-35).

As per claim 8, Barr et al. discloses release actuator 150 parting the retaining member and the holding member.

As per claim 9, Barr et al. discloses holding device 140 being a latching lever (column 5, line 6).

As per claim 10, Barr et al. discloses latch 140 being pivoted (about axis 84; see Figures 3 and 4).

As per claim 11, Barr et al. discloses latch biasing device 134.

As per claim 14, Barr et al. discloses the release actuator 150 including a thermally sensitive substance (solder) which expands (melts) as the temperature approaches the threshold temperature, thereby allowing the movable retaining member 146 to disengage from the holding device 140.

As per claims 15 and 16, Barr et al. discloses release actuator 150 being mounted in combination with both the valve member and the valve body (Figures 2 and 3).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 7, 12, and 13 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Art Unit: 3744

Conclusion

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Marc E. Norman whose telephone number is 703-305-2711. The examiner can normally be reached on Mon.-Fri., 8:00-5:30, with first Fridays off.
